

What are Greenhouse Gases?

Extra heat is kept in the air by greenhouse gases produced by human activity.

Some sunlight is bounced back into space.

Some heat is released into space.

Some heat is naturally kept in by gases in the air like water vapour.

Less heat is able to be released into space.